The higher a car's speed, the less time the driver has to maneuver or stop, reminds the Allstate Safety Crusade. In accidents and emergencies, too often time runs out on the driver traveling too fast for conditions.

GUENARDS
Div. of ...

You have heard of "the big one that got away"? Well, ask young I. D. Bourgeois about the one that didn't get away. Monday night J. D. speared a beauty — a 5 1/2 lb. flounder — right out front in Waveland waters. Norman Hall has been quite successful, too. He keeps bringing them in every night. Jimmy Mayfield is fast becoming a "flounder catcher," too. As long as the evening tides remain low, the flounder lights can be seen and the fishermen are at work.

Friends of Mr. Roger Bordages are happy to know that he is recuperating after one of those mean summer colds. His many friends have missed him at his usual post in the Waveland Food Store.

Mrs. Ruth Ketchum is home again after being hospitalized. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Grayson, her daughter Lynne, and her son Earl, are enjoying a week's vacation in their Waveland home.

The Waveland Garden Club dispensed with their monthly business meeting during the month of July and sponsored an outdoor picnic which was held on the spacious grounds of Mrs. Joseph Vitari on Waveland Avenue. Members of the club, their families and guests were invited. Mrs. Vitari had as her guests, her grandchildren, Celie and Joe Vitari. Others who enjoyed the evening of good food and friendly fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henchy, Mrs. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Buis, Mrs. James Lagasse, and children, Colonel and Mrs. M. W. Glossinger, Wilbert Nunez, Jim Johnston, Dion Montalvo, Mr. and Mrs. L. Moreau, Mr. and Mrs. Sauer and children, and their nephew, Mike, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon T. Duplantier.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gates have returned from a trip to Atlanta, Georgia, and Pensacola, Fla. Mrs. Gates is now in New Orleans where she is visiting her mother who is ill.

Presently in New York are Mrs. Louise Van Buren and her grandson, Dirk Brendake. They are attending the Assembly of Jehovah Witnesses which has drawn thousands, belonging to this religious organization to the Empire State.

Mrs. James Lagasse had as her guests during the past week her nieces, Rose and Clair Singleton from Birmingham, Alabama.

Dr. and Mrs. Stork and their daughter, from Evansville, Indiana, have been enjoying a vacation rest in their charming beach cottage "Stork's Nest" on Waveland's Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Spindler have returned to their home in Evansville, Indiana, after enjoying a vacation in Waveland.

Welcome to Waveland is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harris of New Orleans who have purchased the Klinesmith home on Garden Lane and Jeff Davis Avenue.

Sunday guests of Mrs. A. Mapp of Waveland Avenue were Mrs. Evelyn Ahrens and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hacunda and children, Richard, Joan, Suzanne and baby, John Steven, all from New Orleans.

Miss Lynne Hall and Miss Judy Raymond have returned home after spending a week at Gulf Park College as representatives of the Junior Red Cross. Lynne represented Bay High School and Judy St. Joseph's Academy. The girls were kept busy at many interesting and informative sessions, but still found time to have a lot of fun and meet young people from other Southern states.

More Farmers Aid

Senator Eastland said the bill will be 40 percent of the three-year average market price of 30 cents a pound for marketing which is 40 percent of 30 cents, or 12 cents. The current price support is 11 cents a pound.

Senator Eastland said that for the 1959 and 1960 crop years farmers would receive annual allotments under the law, and price supports determined by present law with a floor of 16 million acres.

However, any farmer, small or large, who desires to increase his acreage allotment by up to 40 percent may do so by taking a 15 percent reduction in price support.

Beginning with the 1961 crop,

Pirate House Has Historical Background

The "Pirate House," historic old home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Lister, 235 Beach Boulevard, Waveland, according to history, was constructed in 1804 by a New Orleans business man who was a pirate.

He had amassed a fortune as a merchant, pirate, privateer, and used the white mansion overlooking the Mississippi Sound as his headquarters. It was here, legend tells us, that the booty was brought ashore through secret underground tunnels leading from the beach to the brick ground floor of the house. Here, also many a less fortunate pirate, the plank to face a worse fate, was thrown into the brick dungeons to die or to languish, depending upon the caprice of his captors. To this day still can be seen remains of the prison constructed of slave made bricks. The original bars in one of the cells are still in good condition and although the entrances to the secret tunnel have been enclosed they still exist. Some time later

TRACTOR SAFETY

If your tractor is moving on highways, you should be extra careful. The normal speed of 5 to 15 miles per hour of a tractor is almost like standing still in fast highway traffic.

To help prevent some dangerous accidents, here are some hints:

1. Be sure that you can see ahead, to the side, and to the rear of the tractor and implement or trailer you are pulling.
2. Be sure others can see your tractor. Have flags attached during the day and proper lights at night.
3. Be sure that your steering apparatus is in good condition. Tractors with wheels that "shimmy" should be kept off highways until repaired.
4. Keep the brakes equalized and tight enough to make short stops. Have good control at all times.
5. Be familiar with the machine you are operating and do not carry passengers on the tractor.

CERTIFICATION DEADLINE

The deadline passed for seed certification applications on July 15. But applications will be accepted until August 1 with a $5 penalty fee.

Contact your county agent for application blank, or write to Mississippi Seed Improvement Association, State College, Miss.

Crops and varieties that can still be certified are: Bahia, Pensacola, Argentine, and Wilmington. Open-pollinated corn—Mosby, Paymaster, Laguna and Yellow Jarvis.

Cotton—Anubra 56, Coker 100, Coker 124, Defoe 9169, Deltapine 15, D & L Fox, Deltapine Staple, Dixie King, Empire, Plains, Stoneville 7 and Stoneville 3302.

Leopedeza—Climax, Kobo, Korian, Common, Rowan and Sericea. Rice—Bluebonnet 50, Zenith, Century Patna, Noto and Toro. Sorgho—Tracy, Star and Wiley. Soybeans—Jorman, Jackson, Lee, Boboy and Roanoke.

FALLOWING LAND

Now is the time to start fallowing land for early planting of oats or wheat for early grazing.

On seed is likely to be scarce this year, so start looking now to locate a supply of the variety you want that is free from weeds.

Farmers who plan to plant clovers and have not yet fallowed the land should do so right away. The land should be broken now and fallowed the rest of the summer.

Take care in selecting your clover seed as it requires some of the best and deepest soil for good production.

BATTLEFIELD PRESERVED

Vicksburg National Park, which claims the distinction of being America's best preserved and most beautiful, is one of Mississippi's outstanding tourist attractions. Yearly, it attracts hundreds of thousands of visitors as a fitting memorial to the most important campaign of the War between the States. There are many historical tablets, 274 markers, and 250 monuments marking positions of Civil War military groups. The park extends over 1,200 acres and over 30 miles of trails.

Stop! Don't do that! Don't ever use steel wool or steel brushes on stainless steel.

It leaves a film of iron that will discolor the stainless. Particles of the steel may become imbedded in the stainless steel surface and eventually rust.

STAINLESS steel wool or carbon tetrachloride may be used to clean stainless steel surfaces. Polishing with a dry, soft cloth is one of the best ways to maintain the luster. Dry whitening may be used.

On stainless steel built-in ovens and units, the most common stains are heat stains on the surface units and fingerprints on oven doors. It is characteristic of stainless steel to become heat stained and turn a slight blue cast with intense heat.

For ordinary cleaning use a mild soap and water. For more difficult stains and burned on food particles, follow the directions already given. Or you may find a commercial cleaner at your grocery store; follow the directions on the container and use a damp cloth to wipe off liquid. Be sure to rub with the grain of the metal; do not use a circular motion.

PLENTIFUL FOODS

Peaches, watermelons, potatoes, summer vegetables, etc. These are all on the peach list for August. Peaches are capitals because they are the future food of the month.

Be on the lookout for good ways for eating fresh and for canning, freezing and such for later use.

PEACH WAFFLE DESSERT

Place scoop of vanilla ice cream on waffle and top generously with sliced peaches.

You may like to bake extra waffles at breakfast; wrap them and put in home freezer or refrigerator freezer chest. At dinner time, reheat the waffle in an aluminum foil after they cool the oven or toaster.

EAT YOUR BREAKFAST

But you never did think of eating breakfast as a safety precaution. But a 2-year survey by the North Carolina Industrial Commission has showed that it may be.

In a large textile plant, three out of four workers who had accidents had eaten no breakfast. So play it safe—eat your breakfast and begin the day right. Fruit, cereal, milk eggs and toast may be the lifesavers that keep you from being a vital statistic.

"Young drivers properly trained now will reduce future traffic accidents, by population increases require a rapid expansion of driver training facilities," says Judson B. Branch, president of Allstate Insurance Company. "Fourteen states already are offering financial aid to driver education programs, setting a pattern that will help provide adequate driver training courses for more high school students."

"Her husband's a Gas Company man"

Now, before I forget it, I will tell you that Captain Proby sends you his best respects. Lieutenant Porter ditto and Lieutenant Brown also.

The rest of the letter was missing, but it is a fact that this young man died before he could return home to tell of his experiences. This is believed to have happened about the last letter his family received from him before his death, and for that reason it was placed in the "strong box."

The above portion of the letter has been framed under glass and is in the City-County Memorial Library in Bay St. Louis where it may be read by interested persons.

Modern Bay St. Louis is situated on the west side of the Bay of St. Louis, where a variety of cultivated crops are raised. The two miles of the Bay giving access to the largest man-made mud beach in the world.

The shore beauty of tropical waters gently caressing the gleaming sugar white sands, shaded by palms and other tropical trees is unique to the Mississippi Gulf Coast and is found nowhere else in the entire United States.

Here, the water is so clear, the sand so white, the sun so warm, and the breeze so soft, that it is no wonder that so many people come here to enjoy the beauty of the Gulf Coast.

Our Lady Of The Woods Shrine

Senator Stennis Comments on Passage of Farm Bill By The Senate

Senator Stennis, commenting on the passage of the farm bill by the Senate on Friday, July 25, said that the bill falls short of what he wanted, but it does contain safeguards to protect our farmers in years to come. He made a strong effort to hold our national cotton acreage to at least 17.5 million acres, but the 16 million acre minimum contained in the bill is the best we could get under the circumstances. Without this provision, our cotton allotment would drop to 15 million acres in 1959.

Under these, the farmer may choose to plant only his allotted acreage and receive price support under the formula now used, or he may also choose to overplant his allotment by 40% and receive a lower price support. This "choice" plan is temporary, lasting through 1960. The support price of midling inch cotton cannot go below 30 cents a pound under any circumstances. The Mississippi Senator said that he was especially pleased that the bill contains a modification of his Small Farm Amendment adopted in the Agricultural Act of 1956. The new Small Farm Provision assures each cotton farmer at least ten acres or his 1958 acreage allotment, whichever is smaller. 310.

The Mississippi Artificial Breeders' Cooperative will hold their Annual Meeting in the spacious air-conditioned auditorium of the Alumni Building on the campus of Mississippi State University on Thursday, July 31 at 10:00 a. m. High-lighting the program will be a welcome address by Dr. Ben Hilburn, President of Mississippi State University.

A unique feature of the program 000 additional acres have been earmarked especially for cotton farms with allotments of 10 acres or less, which means that 77% of Mississippi cotton farmers will be protected against future acreage reductions.

The Stennis Amendment to the farm bill, which will permit Mississippi to save 22,669 acres in 1959, 27,836 acres in 1960, and 12,973 in 1961, passed the Senate by unanimous vote. Senator Stennis pointed out that the Southeast in the past has lost heavily in acreage due to shifts to the West. "The formula allocating state allotments is now operating to the advantage of the South-east, and my amendment will permit Mississippi and most of the Southeastern states to gain acreage in future years." Senator Stennis said that the bill does move in the direction of meeting competition of foreign producers and synthetic fibers, but we must continue to appraise our cotton problems. "I hope that the experience in years to come will aid in adopting a better program which will more adequately come to grips with our pressing agriculture problem."

this year will be the unveiling of a monument erected in honor of "Prince Regent Pat", a plus-proved Jersey bull and tested sire. This bull, owned by the Illinois Central Railroad, was loaned, without charge, to the Mississippi Artificial Breeders' Cooperative for the past ten years. During this period, his services were available artificially to thousands of dairy farmers scattered throughout Mississippi. His daughters number well into the thousands and because of their superior conformation and high milk production, are proving of inestimable value to their owners.

The services of this great sire were made available through the cooperation of the Agricultural and Forestry Department of the Illinois Central Railroad, representatives of which will be present at his year's Annual Meeting, which promises to far surpass that of any previous year.

PLANS FOR NEW DELTA WEATHER SERVICE

Plans for a newer, more detailed weather reporting service for farmers in the Delta Region of Mississippi have been announced. The program is an experimental attempt to provide Delta farmers with up-to-the-minute information about what to expect during the growing season. During the growing season, farmers request more information as to amounts and times of precipitation, the likelihood of heavy dew, the severity and duration of rain and wind storms, and the range of daily temperatures.

A High Honor TO MISSISSIPPI'S SENIOR STATESMAN

RESOLUTION OF TRIBUTE AND HONOR
William H. Colmer
Member and Statesman, Educator, Soldier and Congressman. He has served Mississippi and the Nation for thirty-five years as a County Attorney and District Attorney, for twenty-four years as a Representative in the Congress of the United States. Under his Chairmanship, the Special Committee on Post War Economic Policy and Planning developed comprehensive Plans for Reconstruction of the Nation's economy from War to Peace, and recommended a new and first policy toward Russia. Chairman of a Special Panel Policy's price and commodity leadership has led the Court of Government by billions of dollars.

For the Board of Trustees American Good Government Society
Edward A. Burke

The name of Bill Colmer joined a small and select roster of America's greatest patriots when he was distinctly honored with the George Washington Day Award of the American Good Government Society. Not in this century has any Mississippian achieved such a high and noble national award. Among others receiving this high honor are Senators George, Byrd, Taft, Russell and Congressman Smith.

This is the type of unselfish, conscientious, hard-working public servant who is the voice of Mississippi's Sixth Congressional District—a voice of leadership and authority that has the undivided attention and unqualified respect of the Congress.

Bill Colmer's high positions of responsibility in Congress are the result of 25 years of inspired and devoted service to his people and nation — it cannot be matched nor can it be acquired overnight. Bill Colmer's seniority and experience is your investment in a strong South. Protect your investment — re-elect Bill Colmer as Congressman of the Sixth District on August 26. The next few years are far too critical to experiment with amateur statesmanship and unproven leadership.

(Submitted to and approved by James H. Colmer, campaign manager)
